

Are you a teacher? Then follow these basic tips;

Integration in the classroom

As a teacher, you have various opportunities to integrate Lingofriends into your class. You can, for example:

- make your course participants aware of the possibility of practising the foreign language outside of class in an Lingofriend partnership
- occasionally have students bring their Lingofriend experiences into the classroom
- make the students' Lingofriend work more effective through individual learner coaching
- systematically prepare the students in your course for independent, life-long learning and use Lingofriend as a possibility for practising this.

Lingofriends for teachers

Lingofriends can help you with:

- finding Lingofriend partners for your students and/or
- search for a partner class in a target language country for your class to work with over a certain period of time
- the chances for finding new Lingofriend partners naturally increase the more commonly your students' native language is learned in the target language country
- but you can also contribute to increasing the supply of Lingofriend partners by telling colleagues abroad about Lingofriends and its potential.
